I immediately jumped into God of War because it was one of my favorite franchises (I played the original trilogy). The game has changed a lot, but in a good way. It's not exactly an open world, but there's a lot more research and knowledge, along with a great incentive to narrate quality in the newest title. I have tons of notes and screenshots of my journey to go through, but started with the God of War Tips Page. I also plan to go deeper with my information in order to be more useful to future readers. I don't plan on doing a step-by-step guide to the game, but can sometimes cover quests. I believe a lot of it depends on the player. I'm fascinated by its gameplay elements, so I'm more focused on making guides to help players find Bobbleheads, analyze perks, SPECIAL stats, game calculations, weapons, and other aspects of gameplay. The site is now 60 pages of pure content, so I've already surpassed my past efforts on Fallout 3 with plans to write more. Management is constantly evolving in the same way as my other projects. This is completely possible by it now, but will improve over time as more information is refined and I learn more about the game. You can contact me if you want to share a tip!
